

25 to 28 February 2010

Just firstly want to extend my appreciation towards the Lategans Carin, Willem and little one.

You have blessed me so much. As a 24 year old ...just got married and being in new phase of life ... it's amazing how I realize and came to a shock that I have not been true to self. I have known and believed in love of my Lord Jesus Christ but I had not accepted the gift. I battled and still in a struggle to share deep relations with others. I wondered why I felt so much of hinderance when I have to love on my husband and receive his love. God revealed the reasons altogether and I see I need to go through journey again with the Lord.....to study his love, accept the gift and make it mine.

This is such freedom for me! The camp reconnects woman in a way beyond expectations. God confronts issues U never thought were important. But that's how God is towards us...He reveals all stumbling blocks in our paths so we won't fall in enemy's trap and even if we have falled, his love extends and reassures that his is still our hope. One thing, ons must come with expectation and hope for restoration.

Thank you and God Bless
